SHORT VERSION, SELECTION Jonathan Wanders

Afterwards we visit Boomgaard Franse Steeg (Orchard French Lane) where we can see outside the sculptures by P.A.M. Crombach and the monumental installation Inside the rainbow (you find yourself) by Jonathan Wanders. The downright brutal, hard coloristic intervention à la the hard-edge painting style from the U.S. in the wonderfully fragrant green works wonderfully good. The long color staggered ribbons, gracefully pleated around the trees, sway lightly in a breeze that gently sweeps across the plateau. Jonathan Wanders, who has given his optical art referring environment a strong English title, uses repetitively stylized light refractions thoughtfully to connect macrocosm with microcosm and the majestic with the insignificant. The rainbow-enclosed human fully realizes that he must fully accept all colors and that he is only a fluff in the masterly and tastefully imagined omnipresent. An exceptionally powerful and astute work of art in several respects.

Slightly euphoric we continue our way to Terblijt where ...
